Allied Membership Benefits

AIA Richmond Chapter Allied Members receive a variety of benefits relevant to businesses working in the design and construction industries: visibility, networking and promotional opportunities, event discounts, and recognition as both an individual and a company that shares AIA Richmond Chapter's commitment to the built environment. Allied members of AIA Richmond are also encouraged to enroll as allied members of the statewide component, AIA Virginia.

Benefits of Allied Membership include:

- Individual use of title: Allied Member, AIA Richmond Chapter.
- Listing of allied members and their firms on the Chapter website with a hyperlink to the company's website.
- Regular networking opportunities with more than 400 local AIA architect members through Chapter events.
- Invitations to Chapter programs and events at member prices or, as is most often the case, free admission.
- Receive all Chapter e-mail announcements, mailings, invitations, and newsletters.
- The ability to participate as a member of an AIA Richmond committee, which offers the opportunity to become involved in the work of the Chapter.
- Representation on and access to the AIA Richmond Chapter Board of Directors through an allied member director.

Additionally, Allied Members have the unique opportunity to highlight their interests and show their support for AIA and the design community through additional sponsorship opportunities through AIA Richmond events, on a targeted, single event basis.

In 2021, we have rolled out a yearly sponsorship package option for Allied members. See aiarva.org/membership/support/ for more information.

Please contact AIA Richmond at info@aiarva.org for more information about Allied Membership and individual event sponsorship opportunities

Chapter Programs

Allied Members have the opportunity to show their support not only for AIA Richmond, but for the entire design community through participation in, and sponsorship of regular AIA Richmond events. Specific events may vary year to year, however below is a description of the typical yearly programs. Please contact AIA Richmond at info@aiarva.org for more information about Allied Membership and sponsorship opportunities.

Annual Design Awards

Year in and year out, this is one of our most popular programs. Each year, AIA Richmond recognizes exemplary projects, their architects and their clients for outstanding recent work, as well as those architects who have provided a lifetime of outstanding service to their profession and the community. Allied members will have an opportunity to socialize with many of the chapters most widely known practitioners, and learn what makes a great building in the eyes of the awards jurors. In addition to participation in this prestigious event, opportunities for sponsorship are available.

Architecture Month

This is a unified statewide AIA public outreach effort, undertaken simultaneously by all five Virginia AIA chapters. Events are geared toward making the public aware of the role of architects, and the importance of architecture in today's world. Programs include building tours, lectures by prominent architects, and exhibits. Allied members will have the opportunity to expose their products to an audience beyond the architecture field. Additionally, publicity for this event offers all members an excellent opportunity to reach a target audience of the consumers of the many services offered by our members.

Front Porch

This event happens every year to bring together designers and our community. Each year focuses on a different topic, specific to what's going on in Richmond. One of our best attended events, members of the community get to meet and mingle with designers from across the industry. This is yet another opportunity for Allied Members to connect with and uplift the architecture community in Richmond.

Golf Tournament

The AIA Richmond Golf Tournament is a yearly event which offers the rare opportunity to spend a relaxing afternoon golfing, followed by drinks and heavy hors d'oeuvres. Participants in this event typically include architects, contractors, owners, engineers and others in the design and construction community.

Young Architects Development Programs

These programs are geared toward interns who are currently pursuing licensure or are recently licensed. Programs generally vary from social events, hard hat tours to seminars and lectures by guest speakers. Programs are focused on topics of interest to emerging professionals.

Holiday Party

This is an opportunity for all AIA Richmond members to socialize, share in the season, and reflect on another year gone by while looking forward to the future. Allied members, like all members are invited to socialize and enjoy the company of friends at this memorable event.

Richmond Women in Design

All are welcome! The purpose of this group is to provide opportunities to educate, enhance, explore, and celebrate the historic and present contributions of women in our industry through education, networking, mentorship, outreach, and professional development.

Monthly Events/Programs

These programs serve all AIA members. Topics range from technical to design-related issues, and include building tours. As an allied member, participation in these programs will afford you the opportunity to share in these programs with our professional members, and identify your brand with the important design and construction issues of each program.
